A newsletter for the members of the Maryland Orchid Society

July 2008

president's message

For the last decade or so, I've been an advocate of occasionally doing things that scare the heck out of me. I'm not talking about the kind of thrills available from driving too fast or riding an amusement park attraction. Rather I'm referring to the sobering, cold-sweat, sometimes paralytic process of making a decision to commit to something important but for which there is no guarantee of success. I'm not the kind of person that readily plunges headfirst into things with the blind faith that problems and issues will naturally work their way toward an optimal solution. But I have to admit that of the most recent three or four important decisions I've made in my life, I haven't regretted any of them. And each has ended up enriching my life and career.

Now what I'm leading up to obviously is the start of my most recent adventure—to serve as your next MOS President. Fortunately, most of the scary decision-making occurred two years ago when the Nominating Committee and Ann Lundy advocated for my standing for the Vice President's position. (When considering the VP's job, it's smart to consider the four-year plan; not just the next two years.) I'm indebted to Ann for giving me opportunities to learn about the society and allowing me the latitude to try a few new ideas. In fact, we all owe Ann hearty congratulations for a successful term as President. MOS is a better, bigger, stronger organization for her devotion and efforts. I'm enthusiastically looking forward to the next two years. I hope to live up to your expectations. Let me know if I don't.

I'm also extremely pleased with the slate of officers and committee chairs who have agreed to serve critical roles in the society. Talk about commitment! The full list of names appears later in this newsletter. Our first milestone together is the Board of Trustees meeting on 10 July, at which budgeting for the coming fiscal year will be a major theme. Board meetings are held quarterly and are open to all members. I don't remember what caused me as newbie member to attend my first Board meeting years ago, but I'm glad I did. (As food and refreshments are an important part of these gatherings, please contact me or David or Margaret Smith to let us know if you plan to attend.) For those of you that I don't see in July, I look forward to seeing you again in September at our first monthly meeting. Have a great summer!

Gary

Tom McBride to Speak at Next Meeting

Tom McBride, our Show Table Chair, an AOS judge, and one of our local orchid gurus, will present the cumulative Show Table results from 2007-2008 at our September meeting. Tom keeps track of ribbon winners for every class, as well as every member who puts a plant on the show table each month, loans plants for MOS or away show exhibits, and/or puts in an exhibit at our annual show. Ribbons count toward monetary awards, while loans and exhibits count toward points for free plants. For every three plant loans or exhibits, members will have the opportunity to pick out a seedling orchid plant of their choice from the many different species and hybrids Tom provides at the September meeting. Tom will distribute monetary awards for the first, second and third place winners of each class.

This meeting always whets our appetites for growing more, bigger or better plants and starts off our new orchid season with an enthusiastic scramble for new plants to add to our collections. Tom will also talk about what the Show Table judges are looking for each month and how to improve your chances of winning a ribbon.

Smithsonian Greenhouses Tour Fascinating for MOS Members

Wow, what a treat! Thanks to Tom Miranda and the Smithsonian Institution, we of the Maryland Orchid Society were privileged to be allowed behind the scenes of one of the country's premier institutions.

The Smithsonian's greenhouses were built in the 1960s on the grounds of the Armed Forces Retirement Home in Washington, D.C. They were used to aid in the rehabilitation of soldiers and airmen and run by nuns until the 1970s. At that time, they were turned over to the Smithsonian Institution and used to support the Smithsonian Institution and other projects around Washington, D.C. They collect and grow many diverse and unusual plants as well as everyday varieties you may see in your own collection.

Tom Miranda, an AOS judge and orchid collection specialist for the Smithsonian, as well as author of the AOS Orchids Magazine columns "Orchid Checklist" and "Orchid of the Month", guided us through their many greenhouses and revealed to us the workings of several of the projects they are involved with today.

For we orchidphiles, the real treat was their very diverse collection of orchids. Miniature, species, and hybrids, most of which were specimen sized, not to mention some very large plants which we would rarely, if ever, see. In some portions, the greenhouses appeared more like an indoor jungle than an organized, working greenhouse, but organized it was with the plants labeled and carefully set to thrive in their preferred microclimates.

Fortunately for the twenty of us, the weather on June 14th did not become oppressively hot and the shelter of the greenhouses protected us from some brief rain. Likewise, the ride in was not as difficult as Washington, D.C. traffic can be.

This was a pleasant day and a fascinating tour for all to be a part of. We hope to see you again for our next activity. A special thanks to all of those who helped organize this tour.

Eric Wiles, D.V.M.

MOS Non- compete Category

Each month, MOS members bring in plants to the meeting for the show table to be judged in 13 different categories. The MOS also has a category called “Non-compete” in which members may enter plants just to show them off. If you have an interesting, fancy shmancy orchid you would like to bring in to share with other members, maybe one you haven’t owned for the requisite 6 months, feel free to place it in this category.

MOS Officers and Committee Chairs

I’m very pleased to announce the following roster of new officers and standing committee chairs for the coming 2008-2010 term. Please congratulate these outstanding members the next time you see them and consider supporting their work however you can.
